Lost Woman Is Found By News Story

"The lost woman story in last week's paper brought fast results" according to Mrs. Cristler Crain who was seeking the address of Mrs. Beilmont Bourland Watson.

Among other calls on the story, Mrs. John Bourland, employed at Wayland Angel's office, saw the story and thought perhaps it could be her sister-in-law in Hereford.

She checked the information and talked with Mrs. Watson to confirm the story.

Mrs. Watson was teaching at Vigo Park during the 1930's and knew J. R. Hicks who was a pastor of the Baptist Church (See LOST, Page 3)

Palo Duro Attendance Record Set

Easter sunrise services and the Easter vacation brought record crowds to Palo Duro Canyon State Park over the week end.

Park Ranger Buddy Hoskins said Monday that 1539 paid cars and 448 unpaid cars passed the park gate. The unpaid cars were let into the park free to attend the early morning Sunrise Services in the park at the outdoor amphitheater.

Hoskins said he estimates there were 10,000 persons in the park over the weekend. He said many families came to the park Friday night and camped during the week-end. He said these campers were not included in the 10,000 estimate.

School Buildings Named For Reeves

Mrs. A. B. Holt has been promoted to rank of assistant principal at Canyon Elementary School and Principal Oscar Hinger has been assigned as principal over both elementary buildings.

This action came Tuesday night at a regular meeting of Canyon school board.

The Canyon elementary facility was named Rex Reeves Elementary School in honor of Rex Reeves who was serving as principal there at the time of his death two years ago.

Mr. Reeves was first to serve as principal of the elementary school when the south building was constructed.

The board hired Mrs. Earl Fort, Mrs. Bobby Byrd and Mrs. Margaret Read as regular teachers. They have been teaching on a substitute basis.

Teacher pay scale was left at $300 above state level. The state will increase teacher pay $108 for the next term.

Superintendent Joe A. Gibson was authorized to make arrangements for purchase of some $8,660 worth of furnishings for the new elementary school building.

The board accepted eight poles and lights from West Texas State College for lighting of a football playing field. Gibson said there was an understanding that when weather is bad on

Wheat Referendum Scheduled May 21

Randall County farmers will receive their 1964 wheat allotment notices this week.

Paul Read, office manager for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of Randall County, said allotment notices would be mailed Friday.

Read early this week said he was not at liberty to divulge the county allotment for 1964 but said it would represent a cut of just under 10 percent from the 1963 allotment. Randall County received an allotment of 132,173 acres for 1963, he declared.

Early mailing of the wheat allotment notices was in sharp contrast to last year's late mailing when notices did not go out until sometime in August as seeding time approached.

Read said farmers also will receive notices of normal farm yields this week.

Randall County farmers will join wheat producers of the nation as they go to the polls May 21 to vote in the 1964 wheat referendum.

Read noted that until now farmers growing 15 acres or less of wheat have not had wheat allotments. He said these farmers now will come under the allotment arrangement.

These small farmers will be able to qualify themselves to vote in the referendum by signing the allotment notice they will receive, he said. He said signing of the notice will not require them to participate in the program.

The forthcoming wheat referendum is only for the 1964 crop.

A yes vote on the referendum would provide that a producer having wheat in excess of his farm allotment be subject to a penalty for the excess production. It would provide that producers remaining within their allotments be eligible for a price support loan of $2.00 per bushel on 80 percent of their normal yield and about $1.30 on any remaining production.

A no vote on the referendum would provide that no penalties be levied for acres in excess of allotment and a price support loan of about $1.24 per bushel available to producers remaining within their allotments.

A no vote would abolish marketing quotas and wheat produced on farms remaining in excess of the farm allotment would not be eligible for any price support.

Read pointed out that allotments will remain ineffective if more than one-third of the producers do not approve marketing quotas. A two-thirds majority of those voting must vote yes in order for the referendum to carry.

If marketing quotas are approved, producers will be offered land diversion payments on the 10 percent mandatory reduction plus additional acres voluntarily diverted, not to exceed 20 percent of allotment.

The referendum will be discussed at a county-wide meeting tentatively set for May 7. Speaker for the occasion will (See WHEAT, Page 3)

Buffalo Center Depth Described Much Better

BY MIKE MOON

West Texas State's center situation has almost reversed from last season according to Coaches Billy Willingham and Howard White. Preceding to the 1962 season, most prognosticators were entirely pessimistic with the entire line much less the centers.

Things have happened since then. Three practically inexperienced sophomores stepped into the center spot and everyone was bemoaning the fact that WT had virtually no depth.

However, those sophomores and several others formulate what should prove to be one of the most depth-laden positions on the entire team. Charles Daves holds the distinction of being first team center at present. Doc Rowell is second squad although he and Daves share the position almost completely.

CHARLES DAVES : Daves is a 6-0, 210-pounder and will be a junior next year with two years of eligibility remaining. He hails from Mineral Wells, Texas. Daves played on the varsity his freshman year and lettered last season as a sophomore. Coach Billy Willingham, who coaches guards and centers, calls Daves "a real fine center and a strong line-backer against running plays." Daves has also been hailed as a good player on pass defense, also as a good blocker and a fierce competitor. Willingham pointed out that "Daves was in close running for being the most improved player on the team for the last season and that he would get consistently better as the seasons progress as he has fine ability and is willing to work to achieve betterment."

DARWIN (DOC) ROWELL: "Doc is a fine line-backer and could be first team on many of our opponent's teams," quoted Willingham about Rowell. He was the second team center for the 1962 season and still plays a close second to Daves. Daves is said to

Hoot Gibson Is Top Buff Field General

BY MIKE MOON

West Texas State's quarterback situation is definitely hurting with the loss of Jim (Corky) Dawson, a three-year letterman for the Buffaloes. However, flashy Hoot Gibson is still at WT to fill in for Dawson.

Gibson is said to have every potential necessary for a good quarterback but he has yet to come through for the team under fire in an actual game barring the Sun Bowl incident which shot him to fame and the Buffs to a Sun Bowl title.

The coaching staff, WT students, and the general public thinks that he can do what's necessary to win but he has yet to do it as Dawson has been the main quarterback ever since Gibson enrolled at West Texas.

Behind Hoot is a big question mark according to Coach Howard White, assistant backfield coach. If Gibson got hurt in the first game, the replacement problem would be a big one. The drop in the signal-calling situation is a big one after Gibson. However, with Bill Bundy well, the situation is alleviated somewhat. As the season progresses, so should the depth situation of the quarterbacks.

To wrap up the quarterbacks: Hoot Gibson will be a question under fire and the others will be a question.

DOUG BROWN: After missing most of the spring drills because of a knee operation, Brown has shown a lot of promise of being a fine line-backer. He played first team center for the freshman team last season. He also has three more years of eligibility. Brown is 5-11, weighs 185 pounds, and hails from Fort Worth, Texas.

JOE HYATT: Hyatt is a 5-11, 185-pound player from San An-

Begert In All-Star Cage Game

Bob Begert, six foot, five inch senior center for the Canyon High Eagles basketball team, was recently selected to play in the Coach's All-Star game August 9 at Houston, Texas.

Two teams, representing the best high school basketball players from the respective north and south Texas high schools, will play the game which takes place at the annual Coaches School, held each year for all the high school basketball coaches in Texas.

Begert, all-time basketball high scorer at Canyon High School was also recently elected to the First team for All-State. Canyon came within 6 points of winning the state high school basketball championship at the state competitions in Austin.

The Canyon team, sparked by the accurate shooting of Begert, lost that one in the final minutes of the game to Buna with the final score at 47 to 41. Buna.

Begert scored a tremendous 726 points last season for the Eagles, earning him the all time record. His game average was 20.7 points per game. The seasons game score for the Eagles was 24 wins to 11 losses.

LARRY PATTERSON: This Beaver Falls, Pa. sophomore at present has one year's credit on the varsity and one on the freshman team. He stands six feet and weighs 190. Larry has been called a tough line-backer by the coaches and is predicted to make a lot of improvement. He was hampered during the spring drills with injuries and didn't play much.

MIKE CULLEN: Cullen, with three years remaining to play football, is a real smart player and has a lot of desire although he is in need of more experience. He is 6-2 and weighs a hefty 205 pounds.

Ostrander Is Granted Fellowship

A senior mathematics student at West Texas State University David C. Ostrander of Amarillo has been awarded a teaching fellowship at the University of Oklahoma.

Ostrander, who expects to receive his B.S. degree from WT in May, will work toward advanced degrees in mathematics and physics when he enrolls at Oklahoma in September. He has majored in mathematics and minored in physics at WT.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ostrander, 2606 Taylor in Amarillo, Ostrander is married and lives at 3510 Polk. A 1958 graduate of Amarillo High School, he was chosen the outstanding physics student at WT in 1961. He works part-time at Southwestern Public Service Company.

tonio Texas. He is a freshman now and, like the other freshmen, needs more experience but has a lot of good potential to develop into a fine ballplayer.

RAYMOND ADAMS: Adams has been tabbed as a good competitor with a lot of desire to play football. He played his high school ball at Odessa and is a 6-1, 205-pound player. Adams missed part of the spring drills due to high blood pressure.

BILL BUNDY: Bundy holds the distinction of being the second team signal-caller at present and is said to have a real strong passing arm and runs with the ball well. He has good leadership qualities and understands the situation and what the coaches are trying to do. He is 6-1 and 180 pounds, plays safety on defense and also punts. Bundy played on the freshman team and failed to letter as third-team quarterback last season.

BOOTS BARKER: The tall, st backfield member of the Buffs team is Boots Barker who stands 6-5 and weighs 180. Barker thusly has an excellent frame for surveying the field for passing and that is his overall best asset. Barker will be playing next year as a sophomore and is from Littlefield, Texas. He also has all of the mechanical ability and physical assets to be a fine quarterback but needs to develop a proper mental attitude and more confidence according to Coach White.

WAYNE FOX: Another coming sophomore player at quarterback is Wayne Fox who split the signal-calling chores on the freshman team with Barker last season. Fox is the hottest of the bunch standing 6-1 and weighing a little better than 200. He does a lot of things well. The coaches tab him as good but not great as yet and has three seasons to develop from good to great. Fox hails from San Angelo, Texas.

Jackie Burns: A recent transfer from Amarillo Junior College is junior Jackie Burns, a 6-1, 170 pound field general from White Deer, Texas. At White Deer, he is said to have guided his team to the state championship in their class. However, after going to AC for two years, he has laid off football. In high school, the coach let Burns do mostly what he wanted to do so he developed techniques of his own and when he learns the general discipline of the Buff squad and how the plays are executed, he is looked forward to being a fine player.

At the last Student Council meeting Mike Swatzell and Leslie Killingsworth counted the money that we had collected for the Plant Fund. We counted $9.27. We don't know whether this will buy the plants or not until the nursery keeper comes out and looks at the planter.

A number of kids went places over the holidays. Danny, Kathy and Leigh Ann Briggs went to Wellington to visit some relatives. Bruce and Teddi Crager went boating and had scads of fun. I hope that ever body else that went somewhere had a lot of fun too.

Hey Kids! One more six weeks and no more school! Pretty soon summer will be here. What will you do? Well, whatever you do that you think would be interesting to other people just call me at OL 5-4711. I'd appreciate it.

What ten letter word starts with G-A-S?

Answer to last week's riddle: Strike one, strike two, strike three, you're out!

Friday morning Vince Wirt had a birthday breakfast. The attendants had waffles, sausage, bananas, grape juice and milk. It was a very good breakfast. After breakfast they played around for a little while. Then at about 9:30 we went home.

Saturday the R. A.'s tried out some more for the Olympics at the camp grounds. We will have them Saturday, April 20.

After the tri-oits Gene Morrison and I went over to his house and played. We watched TV, practiced our concertos and mostly played outside. He had two pairs of Army leggings so we both put on a pair and went outside. After we had played for a little while we went out to the Trail Motel and ate some hamburgers. We had a whole lot of fun.

Visiting with Mrs. M. S. Keller during her recent illness was her daughter, Mrs. Mary Godfrey of Cedar Hill.

H. L. McEntire of Dumas is shown here with one of the paintings he will show at the Fine Arts Gallery at West Texas State University April 21 through May 8. Several other Moore County artists will be represented in the show.

Mary Caballero

Coleridge once remarked, "Art is a middle quality between a thought and a thing, the union of that which is nature and with that which is exclusively human."

There are so many people showing their art work these days that the public is more or less on the spot if he doesn't become a little more informed about his role as a viewer.

For the every-day critic, much of the secret lies in the proposition art is nature, with the man added: nature seen through a temperament. Nature is apparent on the surface of pictures. We see this side at a glance. To find the man in it requires a deeper insight.

The artist has an obligation to his public, since he can in no way stay quiet about what he has to say. The work of art which attracts us excites two emotions: the pleasure in the subject; an admiration for the artist. The old masters rarely signed their work, feeling they wrote themselves all through their work. It is the personal element which has given art its character.

Says J. C. Van Dyke, "a picture is but an autobiographical statement; it is the man and not the facts that may awaken our admiration; for, unless we feel his presence and know his genius, the picture is nothing but a collection of incidents."

The true critic must have in his knowledge a few facts that surely aren't outdated...

Balanced and unified composition, both of line and mass. Harmony of color, expressed by the correlation of all colors throughout the picture.

Tone, or the unification of all colors upon the basis of a given hue.

Values, or the relation of the shades of an object to each other and the degree of relation between one object and another.

Envelopment, on the sense of air with which objects are surrounded.

Carl Sims Promoted

FORT HOOD, TEX. (AHTNC) Carl W. Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie S. Sims, Happy, Tex., recently was promoted to specialist four while serving with the 1st Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex.

Sims, a mechanic in Headquarters Company of the 52nd Infantry's 1st Battalion, entered the Army in December 1961 and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

The 25-year-old soldier is a 1956 graduate of Happy High School and attended West Texas State College in Canyon.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Moseley over the week end was his brothers family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moseley and children, from Fort Worth.

With these five ideas in mind, the critic may enter the gallery, constituting himself a jury of one, assured he is armed with every consideration which influenced the artist in his work.

However eloquent may be the artist in his work, it is convincing only in that degree to which his audience is prepared to understand his language and comprehend his subject.

The public should form with the artist a partnership, not in the limited sense of giving and taking, but of something founded on comprehensibility; and to exchange the vague impression of pleasure, defended in the simple comfort of knowing what one likes, to the enjoyment of sure authority and a reason for it!

It's even fun to talk to the artist, if you know something about the subject of art! Be sure to visit some of the art exhibits in the next few weeks; there will be quite a few in our area this month.

Goal $3,500 As Randall County Cancer Crusade Kicks Off

Seven prominent Canyon people this week told why they support the Cancer Crusade. Their statements came as the Cancer Crusade got underway here in Canyon.

Here are their statements: MRS. R. A. NEBLETT: Housewife: "I support the Cancer Crusade because I believe scientific research will eventually conquer this dread disease and I believe I can help further research with my time and money."

Mrs. Neblett is a native of Canyon. She is a graduate of Canyon High School and of Texas University, a member of the Presbyterian Church. She has two children and two grandchildren.

She gives most generously of her time and means to projects that make Canyon a better place in which to live.

She is at present president of the Cemetery board, a member of Potter-Randall Tubercular board and from the beginning has been an ardent supporter of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

DR. J. A. HILL, president

DR. WALTER JUNIPER

emeritus of West Texas State University: "As I write this plea for liberal support of the Cancer Fund Crusade, one of the best friends I ever had lies dying with that dread disease which is the cause of one death out of every six in this country each year. This plague, which science is striving to stamp out, sooner or later strikes two out of every three families. Let everyone do his best."

BOONE MCCLURE

Dr. Hill came to Canyon June 10, 1910, as head of the history department of what was then West Texas State Normal College. Sept. 1, 1918, he became president of the college and continued as president until his retirement.

Since his retirement he has written several books and has continued active in city, college and state affairs. He recently was honored by the Texas state legislature for his devotion to the preservation of ideals and traditions upon which our state and country were founded.

Dr. Hill has three children, eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

MRS. CECIL SIMMS, teacher: "Here is my check to support this drive. No progress in research for the cure of cancer can be made unless there are sufficient funds with which to do the work. If we give more, more can be done to effect a cure for this dreaded disease that takes its toll from one and then another, and one day the fight for a cure will be won; then we will know that our giving had a part in the winning of this battle."

Mrs. Simms came to Canyon 20 years ago. She has taught in Canyon public schools for 20 years. She has a BA degree from Texas Technological College and an MA degree from Texas State College. She is a member of the Church of Christ, P-TA, AAUW, NEA, TSTS and CTA.

O. W. PARKER, JR., businessman: "I support the Cancer Crusade because I believe I can help in this way to conquer this dread disease and help save many lives. Cancer is the number two killer of America today. I want to have a part in destroying this killer."

Mr. and Mrs. Parker came to Canyon in 1947. He is owner and manager of Western Auto Store. The Parkers have two children and one grandchild. Parker is district chairman of the Boy Scouts, a member of Rotary Club and the Methodist Church. Both Mr. and Mrs. Parker work actively for the betterment of Canyon.

DR. WALTER H. JUNIPER, dean of West Texas State: "I support the Cancer Crusade because I feel that everyone must help and keep helping until a break through is achieved. Just as vaccine was found to combat polio, so will something be found to remove cancer. Support of the Cancer Crusade is a positive step in that direction."

Dr. and Mrs. Juniper came to Canyon in 1949. Dr. Juniper is a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Rotary Club and is Rotary chairman of the foreign student exchange program.

PEGGY SUE HALES, WT student: "Behind the great discoveries in the world have stood the few 'unsung heroes' who have helped in the advancement toward a fuller life. Those who support the Cancer Crusade will be counted among those working to overcome another major obstacle which confronts this age—that of understanding and curing cancer."

Miss Hales is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hales, pioneer dairy farmers of Randall County. Her father, Joe V. Hales, also is a dairy farmer. She is a graduate of Canyon High School, a junior at West Texas State. She is editor of the annual, a member of the dean's honor roll and president of Phi Alpha Theta honorary history society.

BOONE MCCLURE, director of the Panhandle Plains Museum: "Since this is a time designated for special emphasis on cancer and its effects, I feel that we might direct our attention to the basic principle of the drive and its characteristics. The cancer drive, as it is now conducted, is a freewill offering type of campaign that is typically American in its character. I feel that when we make contributions to such a program, we are helping defeat this dread disease and at the same time maintaining our heritage by caring for our needs in a democratic manner."

McClure is executive secretary-treasurer of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society. He came to Canyon in 1912 with his parents. He is a graduate of Canyon High School and of West Texas State.

He is a member of the Methodist Church, a Rotarian, a Mason and a member of the Sons of the American Revolution. Mr. and Mrs. McClure have one daughter who is attending Oklahoma State University at Stillwater.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

We talked to Olin Hinkle at the Panhandle Press Convention over the week end. Olin used to work for The Canyon News. He is now a journalism professor at the University of Texas.

Olin says he has spent most of his teaching career telling budding journalists not to write columns and editorials about things far removed from their respective communities.

Olin, who is a brother of Mrs. Bill Money, said he has changed his mind. Television has brought the happenings of the world into our living rooms. Cuba has become as local as the corner grocery store.

What Kennedy said to Khrushchev yesterday is this morning's breakfast table conversation.

The Canyon News was honored with the top prize for general excellence at the convention. We couldn't help thinking about Clyde Warwick as we walked up to accept the trophy, a silver champagne bucket of all things.

For decades Mr. Warwick was a moving force in the Panhandle Press Association. He won so often that it was expected most every year.

We heard H. M. Baggerly, Tulsa scribe, speak during one of the sessions. One of the high points of his discussion, so help us, dealt with the outdoor privy situation in Tulsa. The fellow just can't seem to get his mind off that subject.

H. M. didn't say but we presume Tulsa privies lean to the left. H. M. would never tolerate one in Tulsa if it leaned to the right.

There's been a big hubbub about former Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray owning some petroleum interests. Murray has resigned under fire but so far we have read nothing to indicate that his oil interests interfered with his job as railroad commissioner. Members of the railroad commission regulate the oil industry.

We think it's a big mistake to force men in government to sell off their private holdings. In the first place, such a policy is an assumption that the officials involved are dishonest.

We wish to goodness that all the men involved in government were also involved in business. Maybe they'd have a little more respect for the free enterprise system than many of them in high places have evidenced.

We contend that unless William J. Murray did more than just own some oil property and extract a profit from it, he did nothing of which to be ashamed and made a big mistake when he resigned under fire.

We don't know Murray personally. Maybe there's more to it than we know but we have seen nothing so far for which we can condemn the man.

Murray has been a member of the railroad commission for 16 years. We do think that it is bad policy for any man to hold office for so long.

We think it equally as bad or worse for our congressmen and senators to hold office too long. For instance, the two congressmen we know, Walter Rogers and George Mahon, are more dedicated to preserving their jobs than they are to representing their constituency.

There should be a limit on the time a man can serve in any office.

We have a feeling we'd see better government.

Strikes us as peculiar that we haven't seen any derogatory remarks in print about our county officials in a long time. Could it be that Tommy Thompson of the Amarillo Globe-Times is satisfied with the way we are running things down here now?

Hilltop Views

Everyone who is genuinely interested in the welfare of this country must experience a growing concern about the shocking increase in crime. One can hardly pick up a newspaper or listen to a radio or TV news report without reading or hearing about one to a half-dozen serious law violations.

My own concern for this situation was re-stimulated a few days ago when I read a short article in U. S. News and World Report of April 15 about the "Big Rise in Bank Robberies -- and the F. B. I. Response." We get the picture from just a few sentences which I quote.

"Armed robberies held up 678 banks in 1962, up from 540 in the year before.

"Since 1960, there has been a 48 per cent increase in these crimes.

"If burglaries and thefts are counted, a total of 1250 banks fell victim to money crimes last year."

This is just one illustration of the extent, the enormity, and the growth of an illegal activity that threatens the maintenance of civil order in this country. However, this situation is so serious that the F. B. I. "called bankers and police officers to meetings around the nation," the purpose being to study and develop means of combating bank robberies.

Of course if this kind of crime were the only one, or just one in a few, we could perhaps leave the problems in the hands of law-enforcement officers, but when we read comparable statistics in many other areas of our common life it seems to me that it is about time for Mr. Common Citizen to begin to feel a personal responsibility for the preservation of the freedom we have sacredly cherished so long.

In discussions of this danger we often hear the expression, "But what can I do about it?" The answer to that question seems to me fairly simple. Each of us can help by setting high example in the fundamentals of good citizenship in a republic--absolute obedience to all law, whether we like it or not. Conscious Disobedience to law makes one a partner in crime and crime, run rampant, is the fore-runner of anarchy, which nullifies freedom.

I am contending that it is just about as easy to lose all we hold dear to disintegrating forces here at home as to ambitious and unprincipled despots abroad and that each of us carries responsibility for seeing that this doesn't happen. If you think we are not approaching the danger point here I dare you to sit down once each day and list the crimes (law violations) that have come to your notice the last 24 hours. Do this for a week or a month and see where it lands you.

What can I do? By precept and by example I can teach my children and my neighbor's children sound principles of conduct and thus nip crime in the bud. Careers in crime are often generated in the home and parents usually are to blame. Juvenile delinquency about which we hear so much is usually produced by negligent and/or irresponsible parents. If some how we can develop more good dads and mothers we shall have fewer adult criminals.

What can I do? I can help stamp out many of the evil influences that make criminals of our children. Right now down at Austin powerful influences are being brought to bear to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink. In effect, if the bill now before the legislature becomes law, we shall again have the open saloon.

Of course, there are millions of people in this country who will tell you that the return of the saloon in the 1930's improved conditions--that obtained under prohibition. All we have to do to answer that argument is to ask who was responsible for repair? Intelligent people know that vested interests in the alcoholic beverage industry were almost unanimously for it. They did everything they could to keep the prohibition amendment from being enforced and then waged a sustained, deceitful and successful campaign to convince the voters that prohibition increased lawlessness and should therefore be repealed.

They said that to "restrict by law the drinking of intoxicants abridges personal liberty and people resent it." These same interests convinced a lot of good people that "we can't legislate morals; we can only make criminals by trying to do so." Hence, repeal prohibition.

This argument, carried to it's logical conclusion, would abolish all criminal law. I dare say there isn't a prohibitory law in force today in this country that isn't rather widely violated. Robbery, theft, murder, rape, drunken driving, excessive speed on highways, fraud, gambling, bribery, tax evasion, corruption in politics and government, and what have you are all growing fast and all are unlawful. Should laws against such be repealed simply because they cannot be fully enforced? Don't be silly.

Ma be we can't legislate morals, but if we prize the history, the traditions, and the ideals upon which this nation has risen to a position of world leadership we must stand up on our hind feet, now and hereafter, and declare to ourselves and to all mankind that as a civilized people we are unalterably opposed to all forms of agencies and institutions whose practices promote it. As for this column, it is for the preservation of America and the best it stands for.

Prairie Wildlife

The good word these days is---Let's go fishing! The crappie are really hitting those minnows out at Buffalo Lake by the number of fishermen we've seen and heard of who have come home with more than 100 crappie per day.

That's a lot of fish to clean in any one day for anyone. Max Bosley of Canyon in the company of Velton Sogge, also of Canyon, went out to old Lake last Monday and caught 95 of the little fishes.

Roland Hicks of Canyon caught 18 crappie in one hour the other day and Harold Walter of Amarillo caught an even 100 crappie Monday.

Clarence Schults of Hereford came home to Hereford with another batch of 100 crappie. Snooky Lindeman tells us most of the crappie are being caught with small minnows and small hooks from around the dam area.

Last week the dam was the best spot for fishermen, but the finny fighters are being caught all over the lake by this time.

Best results of course with a boat, but lots of folks are doing right well from the shore. Especially the kids. They love it.

Black bass are picking up as are sandies at Buffalo. They never will equal the crappie at least. Not for awhile anyway. Texas Game and Fish men from the state level office in Austin and from the region office in San Angelo were in town last week studying the fishing problems and potential at Buffalo. Results of the study will come later either in this column or in a feature by this writer.

HUNTING, FISHING AND CONSERVATION

Buffalo Lake has a lot of fishing potential but it needs good fishing management. Lakes are like farms. If they aren't cared for properly, they go to pot.

More and more interest is becoming apparent toward the establishment of a prairie wildlife zoo. Members of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce contacted this writer last week for a conference on the feasibility of starting such an undertaking in the area.

We went up for a talk and to show the chamber some of the material we had collected over the years. We presented some of our ideas. From all appearances our ideas were well received. We were invited back for a formal presentation with color slides and movies to illustrate the idea of a prairie wildlife zoo to the tourist and convention committee of the chamber.

The second presentation will be before the full tourist and convention committee of the commission.

Also included in the proposal to establish a prairie wildlife zoo is the idea of extending the Palo Duro Canyon State Park road down the canyon and connecting it in with one of the county roads crossing the lower part of the canyon. This would come out at Clarendon or Claude.

This would provide a through route to the park and to Canyon from the southeast and would provide a 20 mile scenic drive for the enjoyment of Panhandle citizens and tourists alike.

The continuation of the park road would mean more to the progress of the Canyon business and cultural area than the addition of several large industries.

It is our understanding that the extension of the park road has been suggested in the past and the Texas Highway Department already has drawn plans for the road.

In discussing the road, it was suggested that the highway department would not construct a state highway through the park because of the necessity of charging park visitors admission.

This problem is removed by similar roads in other states by putting a check station at each park entrance. As the traveler enters either gate, he is handed a ticket with the date and time stamped on it.

The ticket allows a generous amount of time for the traveler to pass through the park. When he gets to the other gate at the other end of the park, he hands over the ticket. If he has not exceeded the time on the ticket, he passes on his way at no cost and is richer by having experienced one of the most scenic drives in the Southwest. If his time exceeds that on the ticket, he pays admission to the park as he exits.

In this way, those who are merely passing through pay nothing, while those who use the park pay admission as they do now.

The combination of the through road and the prairie wildlife zoo would make the area famous throughout the nation for its attractions.

It makes food for thought. You bet.

Don Callarman Opens Canyon Art Gallery

The Gallery, to be Canyon's only art gallery other than the museum, will hold open house Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m. at 1806 Fourth Ave.

Don Callarman, son of Dr. C. C. Callarman of West Texas State University, is administering the art gallery for the exhibition of the art work of area artists.

Don Callarman's painting as well as those of Robert Hobbs and Faith Helen Faust, art instructors at the university, will be on display.

The paintings of Cal Foster, speech therapist with the Amarillo school system and the art work of two other painters Mrs. Cecile Foster, Cal Foster's mother, and Hazel Wiseman, both of Sudan, will be shown at the open house.

Situated in a redecorated house on busy Fourth Avenue, The Gallery will operate as a commercial outlet for the work of area painters, according to Callarman.

He said anyone may exhibit their work at The Gallery if it meets the required standards set for art exhibited there.

Callarman's art background consists of four years of art training at West Texas State University under the direction of Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the art department.

Callarman also received two years of special art instruction in Corvallis, Oregon, in addition to a two year stint as a commercial artist in the army at Fairbanks, Alaska.

Speaking of his reasons for establishing The Gallery, Ca-llarman said, "I feel that with the interest in the arts in the area, there is a need to broaden the knowledge and appreciation of the arts and I think The Gallery will contribute towards this end."

Callarman said he plans in the near future, to show the art work of the local school children. He said he feels it will be of community interest to see what kind of art the children are doing. He said he expects to invite the art students of the Canyon school system to exhibit their work which they have completed through their art courses in school.

Callarman added that The Gallery will primarily provide an outlet for the work of local artists. He said The Gallery will also occasionally introduce the art work of other area artists to provide contrast for the local art work.

Guests in the home of Mrs. Carl Heizer last week end were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Haas, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Heizer all of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Nester Cass of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heizer have been visiting with Mrs. Carl Heizer for two weeks recently. They returned to their home in Canoga Park, California, on Tuesday.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

The sixteenth annual weed control conference will be held at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station, Bushland on Thursday, April 18. The program will start at 9:40 a.m. The Texas Weed Control Association is the sponsor.

Research information on weed control including bindweed will be reviewed. Control of woody plants on rangeland will be discussed as part of the program. Visitors will have a chance to view some of the equipment used in control work and can see research plots which are bindweed work is being conducted.

Five meetings will be held in the Texas Panhandle next week by the Texas A & M College Extension Service to give producers facts on the wheat situation as it applies to the May 21 wheat referendum. The Amarillo meeting on April 22 and the Hereford meeting on April 25 should be attended by a good number of Randall County wheat producers.

The battle to keep the screwworm contained is raging at full force now. Some few outbreaks have occurred outside the control line but these have been quickly isolated. All livestock producers are urged to report any suspected cases of screwworms to me at the County Agent's Office. A sample of the larvae should be collected for positive identification.

Randall County 4-H'ers will be competing for blue ribbons and a chance to take part in the district contests when they gather at the livestock building in Canyon Saturday morning. Seventeen teams and demonstrations have been assured with perhaps a few more added by Saturday. Many fields of agriculture, homemaking and related activities will be covered in these presentations.

What should we plant for summer grazing? This question is being asked frequently now. The Agronomists at Texas A&M College rates summer crops for grazing in this way. As far as size of stalk they rate sudan smallest, sudan-johnson grass hybrids next smallest and sudan-forage sorghum hybrids largest. Yields for season run in reverse order. The grazing choice of cattle tend to favor a small stalk. Many of the newer sudan hybrids with sweet sorghums developed by commercial breeders have not been tested and their value is not known.

Two skillets of grease were on the stove when Mrs. Eckhardt was interrupted. She returned to the stove and attempted to remove the hot skillets accidentally hitting the handle of one and spilling the hot grease on her arm and hand.

Burn Injures Mrs. Eckhardt

Mrs. Edith Eckhardt received second degree burns on her right arm and hand in a home accident Tuesday evening of last week.

She was given emergency treatment at Neblett Hospital and released. She has returned to normal activities as executive secretary of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Mrs. Eckhardt is unable to wash dishes and she said, "I don't mind at all."

Two skillets of grease were on the stove when Mrs. Eckhardt was interrupted. She returned to the stove and attempted to remove the hot skillets accidentally hitting the handle of one and spilling the hot grease on her arm and hand.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cooper over the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bradley of Delhart, Charles Cooper from Baylor University and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hill from Canyon.

C.E. Mann Is Claimed By Death

A member of the First Presbyterian Church of Happy, Mr. Mann was the son of John C. Mann.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian Church of Happy with the Rev. James C. Willett, minister of the church, officiating. Burial was at Happy Cemetery in Happy under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Home.

Active pallbearers were J. B. McCarty, Adrian Bates, Jack Crabtree, Ernest White, Fred Harris and George White.

Honorary pallbearers were Charlie Harter, Albie White, A. W. Currie, A. M. Currie, J. H. Stephenson, Thomas Sexton, Herbert Wilkes, Homer Bates and Ollie Spear.

Mr. Mann is survived by his wife Hazel; four brothers, Alden of Happy, Dale of Clarksville, Arkansas, Ira of Bradley, Oklahoma and John of Miami, Texas.

Mr. Mann is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Helen Hagood of Petersburg, Texas and Mrs. Elsie Pribble of Whittier, California.

Larry Wieck To Play For Winston Salem

Larry Wieck is completing spring training with the Boston Red Sox in Ocala, Florida, this week.

Word was received Monday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wieck that he will be assigned to play with the team at Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Playing center field on the team Larry has been lauded as "possibly another Mickey Vernon."

A graduate of Embarger High School in 1961, Larry has been interested in sports since he was young. He had a special love for baseball according to his mother.

His brother, Mike, age 10, shows some interest in sports. "He doesn't seem to be as enthusiastic about sports as Larry was at that age though," said Mrs. Wieck.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Adair and daughter, Ginger, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, spent several days recently visiting with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Marcus Adair.

The Duane Adair's are former residents of Canyon.

Thieves Keep Busy In Randall County Area

Thieves are still busy in the Canyon area, according to Randall County sheriff's department reports.

Gene Grabber of 306 4th Ave. in Canyon, complained last Saturday to the sheriff's department that someone Friday night had removed a 6 volt automobile battery from one of his irrigation pumps, located 6 miles west and 2 miles north of Canyon. Investigating sheriff's deputies said nothing else was touched on the pump.

Burglars hit the First Baptist Church of Canyon the night of April 9, according to Bob Hartly who reported the break-in to the sheriff's department.

Hartly said there was no forced entry to the building itself, indicating that someone had hidden in the building until it was closed.

Tools were removed from the janitor's office in the basement to force entry to the church office door, he reported.

The burglar had attempted to pry the door open, but failing to do so, broke in the glass to gain entry to the office. Nothing was reported missing.

Emmitt Smith Visiting Prof At Texas A&M

Dr. Emmitt D. Smith of West Texas State University will be a visiting professor for summer workshops scheduled by the Texas A&M College Department of Education and Psychology.

The three-week session beginning June 3 for schoolmen with responsibilities in instructional leadership will be conducted by Dr. Smith.

Last summer he conducted the annual workshop for the National Association of Student Teaching at Ft. Collins, Colorado.

Charley Donnell of 2308 7th Ave. reported that someone had knocked out one of the windows and broken open one of the doors to the drive-in theater concession stand on the Hereford Highway April 8.

Donnell reported that there was nothing in the building at the time that could be of value to anyone and nothing was stolen.

Joe Hadden, a student at West Texas State, reported last week that someone had removed a $350 piccolo from his locker in the university band room. Hadden said the musical instrument was probably removed about April 3. Its serial number is 24352.

Wildlife Film Available At Lake Refuge

Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge has available a 38 minute color and sound film on the Story of the Mourning Dove telling the life history of the fast game bird including the hunting aspects of the dove.

The film will be available by request by calling the refuge at CY-9260. Manager Bob Brown or his assistants will also order wildlife films for special group showings upon request. A list of available films can be gotten from the refuge by calling.

Several new wildlife films are also available. One film in particular is on the famous whooping crane. Most of the film shows the big migratory birds in their winter homes at Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf coast.

Other films include the Magnificent Canada Goose. This film is 11 minutes long and shows the migration of the Canada Goose in color and sound.

The Pond is a 20 minute film in color and sound depicting the ecology or balance of life in a small typical farm pond. This last film might be of particular interest to high school and college biology classes.

While in Arizona they plan to go to the mountains and see other scenic sites of the area.

Dean Foster, who lives east of Canyon, reported the theft of a silver colored 250 gallon butane tank and trailer from his farm, April 8.

The serial number of the tank is 40052, and was built by Lubbock Machinery. A 13 foot red hose was attached to the trailer.

Teacher's Role In Child's Life Among Most Important

BY LARRY ROBERTS

William Lyon Phelps once said, "I don't know that I could make entirely clear to an outsider the pleasure I have in teaching. I had rather earn my living by teaching than in any other way. In my mind, teaching is not merely a life work, a profession, an occupation, a struggle; it is a passion. I love to teach."

Another teacher expressed his attitude toward his profession in this way: "One of my students came back to visit me after twenty years. He had made his mark in the world-famous and respected. He thanked me for my contribution to his success. That's one reason why I love teaching." The president of a certain Teachers College summed it up in these words: "To me, teaching is the most challenging, exciting, rewarding career a young man or woman can choose, and its satisfactions are many."

The importance of the work of the teacher is second to none. The very existence of the social, political, and economic life of America is dependent upon education. Teachers have an indispensable place in preparing the coming generation for the many demands it must meet. As Henry Adams once said, "A teacher affects eternity. He can never tell where his influence stops." A child's teacher, aside from his parents, has more influence upon that life than any other person. The teacher helps mold the mind, the morals, the character.

This desire to build young lives and treat them as individuals--instead of drilling them with dry facts--makes each hour of teaching a challenging experience. Frustrations exist, to be sure, but so do laughter, excitement, and a warm sense of accomplishment. A good teacher's day is never dull.

The best teachers recognize that each student is an individual, with his own problems, strong points, and weaknesses. This makes possible the feeling of accomplishment with individual students.

Opportunities in the teaching profession are unlimited. Teachers of all types are needed, for both elementary schools and high schools. Teachers of agriculture, art, business, English, history, homemaking, industrial arts, languages, mathematics, music, physical education, science, and many other special fields are needed. Regardless of a person's interests and abilities, he may find his place in the great profession of teaching.

Different qualities are necessary for the varied types of teaching, but any teacher worth his salt has these five basic characteristics or qualities: (1) A strong desire to learn, (2) A strong desire to teach, (3) An interest in people, especially young people, (4) The ability to get along with people, especially young people, and (5) Good character.

The opportunities are truly unlimited in this profession; the work is interesting; the rewards are great.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harlan, Lois Harlan and Dean Saul plan a trip to Clarinda, Iowa, over the Easter holidays.

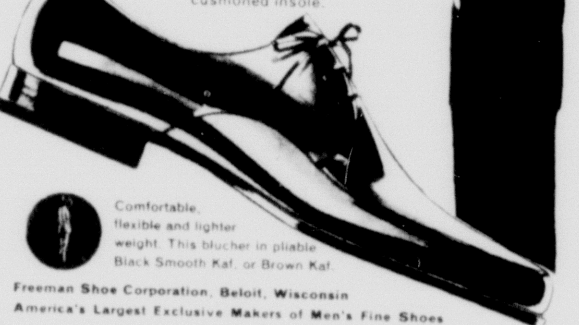

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harris last week end were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mathis and daughters, Anita and Kitty, from Gruver.
